

RESQAI

DISASTER SAFETY PROTOCOL

Practical safety instructions for victims, volunteers, NGOs, and administrators using the Disaster Relief Management System.

IMPORTANT: Always follow instructions from government authorities and professional emergency services. This guide supports the project workflow and does not replace official emergency procedures.

1. General Safety

- Follow instructions issued by local authorities, NGOs, and emergency services.
- Do not enter active flood, fire, landslide, or damaged-building zones.
- Keep your phone charged and enable location access when requesting assistance.
- Share accurate details when reporting an incident or sending an SOS request.
- Keep emergency contacts and essential medical information available.

2. Victim and User Guidance

- Move to a safe, elevated, or officially designated shelter when instructed.
- Use SOS requests only for genuine emergency needs.
- Do not touch fallen electrical lines or enter contaminated flood water.
- Carry drinking water, essential medicines, identification, and a flashlight.
- Monitor RESQAI notifications for incident and request-status updates.

3. Volunteer Safety

- Accept only tasks that match your training, skills, and physical ability.
- Never enter a dangerous area alone; remain connected to the assigned team.
- Wear suitable protective equipment and carry first-aid supplies.
- Verify task coordinates and report status changes through the system.
- Distribute only safe resources. Never deliver food marked as Expired.

4. Food and Resource Safety

- Check food expiry dates before loading or distribution.
- Keep expired food separated and clearly marked.
- Use clean storage areas protected from water, pests, and excessive heat.
- Prioritize drinking water, medical supplies, and food for critical requests.
- Report damaged, contaminated, or missing supplies to the NGO or Admin.

5. Emergency Communication

- Contact local emergency services for immediate life-threatening situations.
- Provide your name, exact location, incident type, and number of affected people.
- Stay at the reported location when safe so volunteers can find you.
- Use tactical chat and notifications only for relevant operational communication.
- Never share passwords or personal access credentials.

Quick Response Checklist

CHECK	ACTION
☐	Move away from immediate danger.
☐	Call emergency services when necessary.
☐	Send an accurate incident report or SOS request.
☐	Keep location services and notifications enabled.
☐	Follow assigned volunteer or NGO instructions.
☐	Verify food and supplies before distribution.

Never distribute expired food. The RESQAI inventory automatically marks expired food as Expired and excludes it from usable-resource analytics.
